

“Who’d have thought that the tiny collection of shirts we first designed in Sydney would lead us here”

We want you to join us on this exciting journey.... To live more Thoughtfully. Offering considered choices and displaying more sustainable ways, whilst producing timeless style, wearability and sustainability that the Thought customers have come to adore.

As Product Director for Thought you will portray passion, commitment and ambition that drives the business to continue its mission. A true brand ambassador, an individual who will cherish our brand and customer as much as we do.

This role plays a prominent role in the business and as part of the leadership team you will be a pivotal participant.

You will be leading a team to create, source and deliver the final product, that drive forward the brand handwriting and sustainability credentials, reflecting our customer’s desires and delivering these against the overall business objectives.

To be successful in this role you will be passionate about sustainability and pioneering concepts to evolve and maintain the ethos of Thought, focusing on the benefit of people and the planet.

Proven experience as a leader of multi-product categories within the retail/wholesale fashion sector and highly experienced in developing a product range with design and buying teams is required. An outstanding leader with the ability to grow a strong team through excellent management, team building and communication skills and excellent financial acumen and data analysis skills.

The salary and benefits are fitting with a role at this senior level.

For more details please contact....

Whilst we appreciate the roles agencies play to support business on this occasion Thought are managing this process internally, so please do not contact us, we do not like to disappoint.